Blush Free Program Rosacea/ Hypersensitive Skin

Rosacea is a common but poorly understood long-term skin condition that mainly affects the face. Symptoms begin with episodes of flushing. As rosacea progresses, other symptoms can develop such as: burning and stinging sensations, permanent redness, spots (papules and pustules), small blood vessels in the skin becoming visible. In the most severe cases, skin can thicken and enlarge, usually on and around the nose.

These amazing results were after 4 months using Acerum Blush Free Kit combined with LED treatments.

Age Reversal Program

An Evolution in Skin Care!

It may sound like a lofty claim to suggest that we can turn back the clock on our skin but this is only because we have been disillusioned by 30 years of below-average results from the current strategy of traumatizing the skin with acids.

Acerum Doctor

Serbaceous Hyperplasia

Sebaceous hyperplasia is a common skin condition characterized by painless, benign bumps on the skin that form over time. These bumps may be white, yellow, or pink and may be single occurrences or may cluster into groups. This condition usually occurs in newborns or middle-aged to older adults. Quite often the treatments offered by dermatologists and skin care professionals may include facial peels, such as salicylic or TCA, needling, liquid nitrogen, prescription medications, and even surgery in extreme cases.

Acerum Doctor offers a much safer option for treating this challenging skin condition.

Sebaceous Hyperplasia all over the face, Acne, Blackheads.
